

UNIVERSITY OF CAMBRIDGE

A free one-day conference presenting new research by Ormiston Children & Families Trust & the University of Cambridge Institute of Criminology

‘Dads inside and out...’

A study of risk & protective factors during the resettlement of imprisoned fathers with their families

Speakers include

Michael Spurr, Director General, NOMS

Sarah Davis, NOMS lead on families of offenders and intergenerational offending

Professor Friedrich Losel, Institute of Criminology

Chaired by Geoffrey Prescott, Chief Executive,
Ormiston Children & Families Trust

Wednesday 30th November

10am-3.30pm

Institute of Criminology, University of Cambridge

Key themes - risk and protective factors in resettlement - the hopes and fears of families when fathers are released - families' role in reducing reoffending - children of prisoners - a European perspective - improving resettlement outcomes.

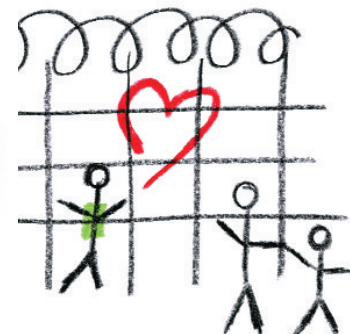

Who should attend?

NOMS staff

Third Sector working with prisoners & families

Academics & researchers

Policy makers & funders

LOTTERY FUNDED

Registration is free but numbers are limited.

To register email Gill.pugh@ormiston.org or telephone 01223 418006

Charity number: 1015716