Special Issue: Interrupting the Continuity From School Bullying to Later Internalizing and Externalizing Problems: Findings From Cross-National Comparative Studies

Guest Editors: Maria M. Ttofi, David P. Farrington, and Friedrich Lösel

Introduction

Interrupting the Continuity From School Bullying to Later Internalizing and Externalizing Problems: Findings From Cross-National Comparative Studies
Maria M. Ttofi, David P. Farrington, and Friedrich Lösel

Articles

5 Protective Factors Interrupting the Continuity From School Bullying to Later Internalizing and Externalizing Problems: A Systematic Review of Prospective Longitudinal Studies
Maria M. Ttofi, Lucy Bowes, David P. Farrington, and Friedrich Lösel

39 The Impact of Bullying Perpetration and Victimization on Later Violence and Psychological Distress: A Study of Resilience Among a Scottish Youth Cohort
Susan McVie

59 Aggressive, Delinquent, and Violent Outcomes of School Bullying: Do Family and Individual Factors Have a Protective Function?
Friedrich Lösel and Doris Bender

80 Do Social Relationships Protect Victimized Children Against Internalizing Problems?
Margit Averdijk, Manuel Eising, and Denis Ribeaud

100 Bullying in Early Adolescence and Antisocial Behavior and Depression Six Years Later: What Are the Protective Factors?
Suzanne Vassallo, Ben Edwards, Jennifer Renda, and Craig A. Olsson

125 Protective Factors Against the Impact of School Bullying Perpetration and Victimization on Young Adult Externalizing and Internalizing Problems
Sheryl A. Hempbill, Michelle Tollit, and Todd I. Herrenkohl

146 Bullying in Childhood, Externalizing Behaviors, and Adult Offending: Evidence From a 30-Year Study
David M. Fergusson, Joseph M. Boden, and L. John Horwood

Official Journal of the Bullying Research Network