A Gender Responsive Redux, or a Revitalized Perspective, on Female Offending

Professor Candace Kruttschnitt

University of Toronto

20th Annual Nigel Walker Lecture

Thursday 15th June 2017, 5.30pm

Seminar Room, Institute of Criminology,
Sidgwick Avenue, Cambridge, CB3 9DA

This lecture contends that research on gender and crime has been shaped, and limited, by select stereotypes about women offenders. It focuses, in particular, on the influence of the pathways perspective on gender-responsive programming and the limitations of this approach in light of research conducted in both the U.S. and Europe.

Candace Kruttschnitt is a Professor of Sociology at the University of Toronto, and a member of the Scientific Advisory Committee for the Netherlands Institute for the Study of Crime and Law Enforcement.
