

The Institute of Criminology invites you to enter a new photography competition.

What are we looking for?

We are looking for images that capture an element of your experience of The Institute of Criminology, University of Cambridge and beyond. This might be an image of your day-to-day life or a photo taken on your Fieldwork or any other Cambridge experience. We are hoping you will show us what you have enjoyed as a student, member of staff or visitor at the Institute through your photos. Our 'theme' is deliberately wide to offer you the opportunity to be creative.

Prizes and Deadline

We hope to have two winning photos, one Cambridge and one fieldwork or beyond. Not only will these be given prominent credit on the web page but we would also like to have framed copies displayed in the Institute.

All entries: your photo/s could be used in future web and print publications produced by The Institute of Criminology.

Entries must be submitted by midnight (GMT) on Monday 3 October 2016

How to enter:

Entries should be submitted by email to: ljb55@cam.ac.uk

Please include the following information with your submission email:

Name

There is a submission limit of five photos per entrant

Results

Winners will be announced at the Criminology Day, Friday 7 October. The winning entries and a selection of other submissions will be published on the Institute website shortly after the winners have been announced.
